By train

TU Dortmund University has its own train station ("Dortmund Universität"). From there suburban trains leave for the Dortmund main station ("Dortmund Hauptbahnhof") and the Düsseldorf main station via the "Düsseldorf Airport train station" (take the S-Bahn number 1 which leaves every 20 or 30 minutes). So the university is within easy reach from Bochum, Essen, Mülheim an der Ruhr and Duisburg. During the semester there are additional suburban trains shuttling back and forth between Dortmund and Bochum. Also there is the possibility of getting from Dortmund city to the university by bus or tram: from the Dortmund main station you can take all trams bound for the station "Stadtgarten" usually the underground routes U41, U45, U47 and U49. At "Stadtgarten" you switch trams and get onto the line U42 towards "Hombbruch". The station you have to look out for is "An der Palmweide". From the bus station just over the road busses bound for the Technische Universität leave every ten minutes (445, 447 and 462). Another possibility is to take the underground routes U41, U45, U47 and U49 from Dortmund main station to the stop "Dortmund Kampstraße". From there take the U43 or U44 to the stop "Dortmund Wittener Straße". Switch to the bus line 447 and get off at "Dortmund Universität S". For individual timetable information about public passenger traffic see the homepage of the Verkehrsverbund Rhein-Ruhr (that is the regional public transportation system).

By Car

The campus of TU Dortmund University is situated close to the motorway intersection Dortmund West, where the Sauerlandlinie A 45 (Frankfurt-Dortmund) crosses the Ruhrschnellweg B 1 / A 40. From here the university is connected to the west with the motorway network of the Ruhr Area and beyond that to the regions of the Lower Rhine and the Netherlands. In the eastern direction the B 1 leads through Dortmund to Unna, where there is a connection with the motorways leading to Bremen, Hannover/Berlin and Kassel. In the north, the A 45 ends after a few kilometres at the A 2, leading to the Kamener Kreuz and in the other direction to Oberhausen. In the Westhofener Kreuz, south of the university, the A 45 crosses the A 2, leading to Bremen and Köln. The best motorway exit you find on the A 45 is "Dortmund-Eichlinghofen" (closer to the Campus Süd) and on the B 1 / A 40 "Dortmund-Dorstfeld" (closer to the Campus Nord). There are signs at both exits leading you to the university. Also there is a new exit before you pass over the B 1-bridge leading into Dortmund.

On „Vogelpothsweg“ take entrance no. 23 to the parking place and CDI Building, where the the Professorship of Higher Education is situated.

By Plane

From the Dortmund Airport you can fly to several places in Central Europe. There are regular air connections with Amsterdam, Berlin, Dresden, Katowice, Kraków, Leibzig-Halle, London, München, Nürnberg, Paris, Poznań, Stuttgart, Vienna and Zurich e.g. To get from the Dortmund airport to TU Dortmund University, which are approximately 20 kilometers apart, you can use a shuttle bus to the railway station "Bahnhof Holzwickede" from which trains depart to the Dortmund main station (please visit www.vrr.de for more information). Normally the fastest way is to catch a taxi at Dortmund airport. The Rhein-Ruhr-Airport in Düsseldorf, 60 kilometers away from Dortmund, offers world-wide air connections. It can be reached directly from the university's train station using the suburban train S1, but normally it is faster to use the suburban train to Dortmund main station and then take a regional train ("Regional Express") to Düsseldorf, which does not stop as often as the suburban trains do.

Way from Campus Nord to Campus Süd (and vice versa)

To get from Campus Nord to Campus Süd by car there is the connection via Vogelpothsweg/Baroper Straße. To respect the residents' needs the speed limit is 30 km/h. It is more advisable not to go by car but to leave the car on one of the parking places located at Campus Nord or Süd and use the H-Bahn (suspended monorail system), which connects the two campuses.

The premises of the Professorship of Higher Education

The Professorship of Higher Education is situated directly at the train station "Dortmund Universität" (CDI Building, Vogelpothsweg 78). The entrance to CDI Building (a white building) is located behind the passage which you can see from the train station. You will find the rooms of the Professorship of Higher Education at the first floor (secretariat: room 101, Mrs Lander, Tel.: +49 231 755 5526).
